SCFA Course #1820-19401

DHEC Course #0103009

The South Carolina State Fire Academy is offering an initial EMT course starting Tuesday, May 28, 2019, hosted by the Hartsville Fire Department. Students who successfully complete this course are eligible to sit for the NREMT certification exam.

The course is held every Tuesday (May – December), from 0800-1700 at The Edition at the Hartsville Museum.

DELIVERY METHOD: Traditional

This course is delivered in a traditional classroom format. However, in addition to instructor-led classroom sessions, each student is required to complete online coursework and quizzes. As such, each student must have reliable access to a computer and the Internet. It is recommended students bring a laptop/tablet to class.

Prior to attending class, each student is required to read assigned chapters, complete online assignments, and take a computer-based quiz. Class time is used to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to work as an EMT in the field. Students will also participate in online discussions, class projects, and several teamwork activities.

The combination of online and in-class instruction accounts for 200+ hours of instruction. Students will not be allowed to miss more than 10 percent of the course's contact hours. If more than 10 percent of course contact hours are missed, the student must receive approval from the program director to continue in the course.

NOTE: To successfully complete this course, each student must maintain an average of 76 percent grade point average for the duration of the course. Grade point averages will be reviewed after each course module completion. In addition, students must score a 70 percent or greater on the ASHI BLS certification exam, and a 76 percent or greater on the course Final examination for successful completion of the course. No make-up tests are allowed without prior consent from the instructor. Students must also successfully demonstrate all required skills and perform a minimum of 10 patient assessments in a clinical setting for successful course completion.
